Task 1

Girl: Did you have a good day at school, Joel?

Boy: Yes. We talked about different jobs. Alice would like to read the news on TV!

Girl: That's an amazing job! What about Milton?

Boy: Well, he loves watching cooking programmes. He'd like to be the best cook in the country!

Girl: And work in a hotel?

Boy: No, in his own restaurant, he said.

Girl: Wow! And Saskia? She is good at sport, isn't she?

Boy: Yes, but she'd like to look after a park and work outside with nature.

Girl: That's interesting. What about you?

Boy: I don't know. Ellis would like to work with animals. I'd quite like to do that.

Girl: At the Zoo?

Boy: That's right. And Lydia says she wants to teach.

Girl: Young children or older children?

Boy: Younger ones.

Girl: That's a difficult job, I think.

Boy: Mmm. Ali's brilliant at sport too, but he'd like to be a policeman. I'd love to drive those fast cars!

Girl: Yes, but I think you have to be very brave to do dangerous work like that.

Boy: Perhaps.

Task 2

Listen to Greg telling Anna about a drawing and writing competition. For each question, choose the right answer (A, B or C). You will hear the conversation twice.

Boy: There's a brilliant drawing and writing competition in this magazine, Anna.

Girl: What do you have to draw, Greg?

Boy: A monster... something strange that lives on the moon or something.

Girl: Do you have to write about the monster too?

Boy: Yes. The monster's age isn't important, but you have to choose a name for it.

Girl: And should it be big?

Boy: I don't have to write how big it is...

Girl: OK.

Boy: But you do have to say what special things it can do.

Girl: OK. How many words can you write?

Boy: You have to write more than 50 but less than 150.

Girl: Aren't you too old to draw monsters, Greg? You are fourteen!

Boy: I know! But the competition's for 13- to 15-year-olds.

Girl: OK. Who'll choose the winner? A cartoon artist?

Boy: No, a writer... and there'll be a photograph of the winner in the magazine.

Girl: Wow! What's the first prize? Not cinema tickets again.

Boy: It's much better than that – 50 pounds to spend in Super Store.

Girl: Oh, that's useful. I need pencils, pens and a new school bag. Perhaps I'll enter the competition too!
