Do you believe in fairies?

Ron Black has just published a book on fairies and their secret lives. In his book he is trying to prove that fairies exist and live everywhere around us. There are different types of fairies. Some of them are good and they always help people. Other fairies are very hard to please. When they get angry, they can even steal a human child or make you very ill.

Fairies live not just under flowers and leaves in gardens, but also in our homes. There was a custom in some countries to leave something to eat and drink in the corners where people thought the fairies were the most active. Today, as Ron Black writes, people forget to feed fairies properly. That's why there are so many wars and conflicts in the world.

But does Ron Black really believe in fairies? Has he ever seen one? When we asked such a question, he only smiled. Then he took out a plan of his house and showed where they live in his place: brownies in the bathroom, goblins in the kitchen and pixies in the bedroom upstairs. So who knows? Let's try. The next time I've got a headache, I will remember to leave some milk in the corner of the bathroom.

1 Ron Black wrote his book to

- A describe one typical fairy.
- B prove the existence of fairies.
- C characterize good fairies.
- D detail the bad luck brought by some fairies.

2 The old custom shows that

- A fairies in the past were more active than today.
- B people in the past weren't very serious.
- C wars happen when fairies are hungry.
- D people once believed in fairies.

3 In Ron's home

- A there are three types of fairies.
- B brownies are the most active.
- C one type of fairy lives downstairs.
- D the fairies want a lot of food.

4 The author's final comment shows that

- A she has always believed in fairies.
- B she doesn't want to hurt Ron Black.
- C her headache is really strong.
- D she thinks Ron Black may be right.

A Trip to Cambridge

On arriving at Cambridge the first thing that strikes the eye is clean, paved streets, neat little brick-houses with gardens, some churches, and wonderful old Colleges. The streets are crowded with students, many of them on bikes, in smart tennis-suits, with the badge of their clubs, and a racket under their arm. Others carry cricket-bats or golf-clubs over shoulders as they wend their way to the cricket ground or golf links.

Cambridge, just two hours from London, is named after the small stream Cam that flows through the place. It is not at all deep, and you can easily see the roots of the many water-plants that grow in it. Rowing is quite impossible; but some ingenious person invented the 'punting'-boat. A 'punting' trip on the Cam is considered one of the finest pleasures a student's life can afford.

It is a lovely sight to see the nice boats full of merry people, all in summer dress, drifting by. While you are floating along, past old willow-trees, green lawns, wonderful Colleges, and under fine bridges, you may listen to all the latest music-hall melodies. You can take out your luncheon baskets, and have a real English picnic.

Do the comprehension test. Write down whether the following statements are true or false:

- 1) The first thing that strikes the eye is a big school.
- 2) The streets are crowded with cars and buses.
- 3) The students are in smart tennis-suits with the badge of their clubs.
- 4) The students wend their way to the cricket ground or golf links.
- 5) Cambridge is three hours from London.
- 6) The stream Bridge flows through the town Cambridge.
- 7) You can see fish in the stream because it is not deep.
- 8) Rowing is quite impossible there.

The Florida Galleons

- A News of the disaster spread. Many pirate ships sailed to the Florida coast and attacked the divers. Some of the treasure was found, but a lot of it was stolen by pirates. The rest of the treasure wasn't found and it stayed at the bottom of the sea.
- B Wagner and his friend, Doctor Kip Kelso, looked for the wrecks. They studied hundreds of old books. It took ten years. Finally the galleons and their treasure were discovered.
- C Then over two hundred years later a few coins were found on a beach in Florida. They were found by a treasure hunter called Buck Wagner.
- D Immediately, more ships were sent to find the treasure, but it was not easy. The sea around the Florida coast was very deep and dangerous. Many divers drowned and others were eaten by sharks.
- E In the summer of 1715 a fleet of Spanish galleons left Mexico. The ships were carrying gold and silver worth more than £ 15 million.
- F Time passed and the wrecks were buried by the sand. The Florida galleons and their treasure were forgotten.
- G Since then nearly £3 million of gold and silver has been found. Among treasure hunters the Florida Galleons' treasure is called "The Big One".
- H As the ships were sailing past the coast of Florida, they were hit by a hurricane. The heavy ships were smashed against the rocks by the huge waves. All the ships were sunk by the storm and over a thousand sailors drowned.
